RE: Quote For Professional Services – Project Engagement Form

Dear Client:

Thank you for your interest in our professional intelligence collection service. You are receiving this letter in response to your request for a quotation of the various services we perform using Technical Remote Viewing and the related project fees.

The two basic service options you can choose from are:

- 1) The Optimum Trajectory Future Study. This involves using our information collection technology to look into your future and map out your best possible life trajectory. We can advise you with specific actions you can take that result in the most fulfilling life possible. Our team will collect the intelligence data, sort and analyze it and prepare a comprehensive report especially for you. The fee for this service is fixed and subject to the terms and conditions of this Project Engagement Letter.
- 2) Custom Search/Study. The second option is a Custom Search/Study in which we can focus our information collection technology on any topic of interest or investigation that is a priority to you. This can include searches for missing items/treasure, a study on an investment you are considering, strategic planning–outcomes, or solving a difficult problem such as a litigation matter in which you would like to know the optimum strategy to create the best result.

Whichever option you choose to proceed with, under the scope of this engagement, our firm will provide the following services:

- a) A specified number of TRV sessions using our proprietary Technical Remote Viewing technology completed by trained professional TRVers in the blind. (for more information on how this session work is conducted please visit our website at www.psicorp.net).

- b) A consultation which may be via phone, email or video conference, to establish project and targeting requirements, and/or at least one follow up consultation after the delivery of the final written report to go over data. (Consultation requirements may vary from project to project and require additional fees beyond the standard two visits.)

- c) A formal written report where your data has been documented and analyzed and put into a format you can actualize. The report may be combined into one document or broken up into a series of preliminary, interim and final reports with subsequent follow-up or supplemental data as necessary to provide you with key assessments discovered during your project.

The final fee is based on the total number of sessions and follow-up work that you have requested. For the standard Optimum Trajectory Future Study it is a flat fee and will never cost more than the amount noted on your Project Engagement Form, unless you agree to more project work.

Additional sessions and follow-up analysis may be requested by you to obtain further information after this project is completed. Additional uncorroborated raw data (not included in the project report) can be provided to you upon request without cost. For custom projects, you will only be billed for services rendered and will always be provided with an estimate for your approval. Should your project require more extensive investigation/consulting work beyond the flat fee arrangement, we will ask you for a refundable retainer to be applied to the final billing. In addition should the project require any pre-approved travel, third parties, or other out-of-pocket expenses these will be billed separately.

We realize you are paying for knowledge and solutions, not for hours put into it, and we will always operate in the most economical manner possible.

Most projects take approximately 1-3 weeks to complete after the project targets and goals are established and your project is formally scheduled. We will endeavor to work your project as quickly as possible, but may be capacity constrained by the number of projects we are working at any one time. Should you decide to engage us in the work described this will become an open letter of engagement between you and PSICORP. In this engagement we will provide intelligence collection and consulting services related to the project description you have provided in the project engagement form attached to this letter.

You may withdraw from this engagement at any time, without cause, should you desire to do so. We request that you notify us in writing of your decision to withdraw. Our firm also reserves the right to withdraw from this engagement at any time, should we feel that the mutual objectives of this engagement cannot be reached, or if we feel that we cannot properly serve your request for support. Should either party withdraw from this engagement, all fees and expenses incurred to date will be billed and due payable.

If the arrangements described in this letter are acceptable to you and the scope of work as described or discussed is in accordance with your requirements, please sign and return a copy of this letter and your project engagement form along with a check payable to PSICORP, or in the alternative fill out the credit card information and mail or fax it back to a member of our support team at your earliest possible convenience.

I look forward to working with you on this most important matter. If I can provide you with any additional information, please do not hesitate to call a PSICORP project manager at (425) 943-9493 or you can email me directly at dane@psicorp.net

Very truly yours,

Dane Spotts, CEO
